What if thinking back can offer us hope for the future?

Questions:

1. Have you had a bad church experience? What happened? Do you know anyone who has left because of a bad experience?
2. Is the rise of the “nones” surprising to you? Why or why not?
3. How do we make sure future generations know the promises of God?
4. One of the things Jonathan said was, “Cheap grace is not attractive to younger generations?” What does he mean by cheap grace? Do you think he’s right?
5. What do you think it means to be more like Jesus? How do we become more like him?
6. Why does it take a lot of courage to ask the question, “what does love require of me?”
